Hotel Conference Told, Lawyer Named.

EXCLUSIVE

The amazing "inside" story of a brazen plot in a downtown hotel to "fix" prospective jurors in connection with the case of former City Treasurer Edmund L. Dolan and others is revealed exclusively today by the Boston Evening American.

Evidence of this plot, the American learned, is in possession of the district attorney's office.

Three witnesses overheard the conversation of several persons who met secretly in a suite of the hotel.

They told investigators:

That they heard these persons "go over" one by one the list of more than 100 prospective jurors.

That they heard one of those gathered name one of the most prominent practicing attorneys in Massachusetts for more than 25 years as a "jury fixing reference."

These witnesses declared in their signed affidavits, taken under oath, that the person who gave the prominent attorney as a "reference" told the others in the group:

"I've fixed juries for ———."

A short time after the disclosures were made by the Boston Evening American, Assistant District Attorney Frederick T. Doyle filed in Suffolk superior court answers to motions made by defendants in connection with contempt proceedings against Dolan and six others.

Doyle named 13 prospective jurors and declared there were 12 others "whose names are not known to the complainant."

In his answers, Doyle stated: "According to statements of

Gold Share Rise Revives Market

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—A sprint in gold stocks enlivened the market today and encouraged late buying in other groups after a straggling retreat.

Mining shares generally ad-

Newton Increases Tax Rate $1.80

The Newton board of assessors today announced the 1935 tax rate as $30.20, an increase of $1.80 over the $28.40 of last year.

For years Newton has had the lowest tax rate of any of the state's 39 cities.

Bruno's Son Hit by Auto

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—Manfried Hauptmann, 5, whose father, Bruno, Richard Hauptmann, was executed as the kidnap-slayer of the Lindbergh baby, was struck by an automobile today while playing in front of his home.

The boy was taken to Fordham Hospital, where an examination disclosed facial lacerations and a possible fracture of the right leg.

Pope's Comment on Duce-Hitler Parley, Swastika Showing

'Sad Things Happening--Pray, Pray'

CASTEL GANDOLFO, May 4 (INS)—Saddened by Rome's wholesale display of the hooked cross of Nazi Germany on a day dedicated to adoration of the Cross of Christ, Pope Pius voiced a fervent plea for prayer in a troubled world today.

The Pontiff expressed sorrow that the Eternal City was bedecked with the swastika for the visit of Reichsfuehrer Hitler at a time when the Catholic Church, locked in a struggle with his Nazi government, was commemorating the day of the Holy Cross. Pope Pius said:

"Among these things is the fact that it is not considered out of place and out of time to raise in Rome, on the day of the Holy Cross, the sign of another cross, which is not the Cross of Christ."

His indirect criticism of Nazi doctrines was made to a group of newlyweds who came to pay home age to the Pontiff here. The Pope also said:

"Pray! Pray!—Pray because sad things are happening here and far away from us." He concluded: "This tells you all, and tells how necessary it is to pray, pray!"

The Pontiff's remarks were regarded as significant. He left the Vatican for Castel Gandolfo only a few days before Hitler was due to arrive. Many felt this was intended to avoid a meeting which would have been expected.

However, possibility of a meeting at Castel Gandolfo when Hitler completes conversations with Mussolini is still being discussed.

It was freely admitted that the condemnation may bring sharp reprisals from Berlin and intensification of anti-Catholic activities—even a formal rupture of diplomatic relations between the Vatican and Holy See.

Hitler Tells Il Duce Anti-Red Pact Vital

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, May 4—For an hour and a half, the absolute, autocratic rulers of Germany and Italy discussed the immediate fate of Europe in privacy today and emerged, apparently well satisfied with the progress of their deliberations.

Beneath a bust of Julius Caesar in Il Duce's workshop in the Palazzo Venezia, Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini held the first of their heart-to-heart conversations, designed to strengthen the Rome-Berlin axis and possibly evolve a military alliance aimed at Soviet Russia.

With completion of a round of picturesque ceremonies carried out in streets packed with cheering thousands who stood patiently in a drizzling rain, the two dictators launched their momentous discussions.

The Fuehrer lost no time in beating his favorite drum—the menace of Communism.

Mussolini, according to indications, considers a military alliance less urgent than Hitler does.

HITLER WANTS PLEDGE

The Fuehrer, on the other hand, wants to know exactly where he and Mussolini stand on the subject of Communism.

It was understood Hitler called Mussolini's attention to Moscow's intervention in Spain. The German dictator wants to know whether Il Duce is ready, if necessary, to oppose openly Russian intervention in any other part of Europe of particular interest to

3 Powers Seek to Fix Franc Price

PARIS, May 4 (INS)—America, France, and Britain are nearing an agreement to set the franc at 35 to the dollar, at least temporarily, financial experts believed today.

Shipping, the franc was quoted on the Bourse today at 33.15 to the dollar.

France has opened negotiations with Washington and London as to means to stabilize temporarily the franc, rather than to devalue it.

WASHINGTON, May 4 (INS)—Revision of the tripartite monetary pact by the United States and Great Britain, to conform with changes in French monetary policy was indicated today in treasury circles.

Franco Ends Jesuit Ban

BURGOS, Spain, May 4 (AP)—The Spanish Insurgent cabinet today ordered the re-establishment of the Society of Jesus in the Spanish territory it governs.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco's ministers approved a decree setting aside a government edict which, on January 23, 1932, dissolved the Spanish Jesuits and confiscated their property.

A decree dissolving the Jesuit order in Spain, where it was founded almost 400 years ago, and confiscating its property in the name of the state was promulgated during the presidency of Niceto Alcalá Zamora more than six years ago.

Saint Ignatius Loyola, founder of the society in 1539, was a Spaniard.

Property estimated by Jesuits at about $30,000,000 was confiscated, mostly schools, residences and convents, publications and charitable and social institutions.

China Hurls Japs Back

HONGKONG, May 4 (INS)—Reaching in broken lines well over 800 miles, the long-awaited general Chinese offensive in five provinces was ordered today by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

The drive opened in Shantung province with a great "break-through" at dawn.

Isolated by the Chinese advance, Japanese detachments are fighting for their lives.

Shattered Japanese divisions, in full retreat, are staging furious rear-guard actions.

Chiang's big national push will involve widespread fighting.

It was notable that Chinese reports have been cautious in refraining from claiming great victories, but it was officially stated that the Shantung offensive had succeeded in forcing back the Japanese eastern wing.

2 New Threats Sent Hurley; Guard Home

On the heels of the letter threatening kidnaping of his daughter, Governor Hurley has received two more threatening notes, it was learned today.

One was a letter and the other a postcard, it was learned. "The postcard stated that a 'parrot' was being sent the governor."

While the contents of the two notes were not divulged immediately, it is known that they are under investigation by postal authorities and department of justice agents.

The letter and post card were addressed to the "New England Chief of the Militia, Boston." Because Governor Hurley is commander-in-chief of the state militia, the notes were delivered to his office from Commonwealth Armory, where they had been first received.

HANDWRITING SCRAWL

It was learned that the handwriting on the letter and postcard were in the same crude scrawl as the letter that threatened the kidnaping of one of the chief executive's three young daughters.

As a result of the threatening notes, a 24-hour state police guard was maintained at the Cambridge home of the governor.

At the same time, District Attorney Warren L. Bishop of Middlesex County, which has jurisdiction over Cambridge, announced he had assigned Lieutenant Daniel M. O'Connell and Inspector Edward Glennon to aid in protecting the Hurley home. Police Chief Timothy F. Leahy of Cambridge also announced that he had "extended police courtesy."

UNDER PROTECTION

Mrs. Hurley, on her way to Washington on a vacation with two children, Betty, 12, and Charles F., Jr., 11, was advised of the threats. While their whereabouts was not given out today, it was stated that they had been placed under protection.

Two daughters of the governor, Nancy, six, and Ellen Sarah, six months old, were under care of a nursemaid at the Hurley home.

Because the latest threats had been received at Commonwealth Pier, Brigadier-General Charles H. Cole, head of the Massachusetts National Guard, assigned Colonel Robert Dalton to the investigation.

House Rejects Stone Ouster

Legislative efforts to remove 68-year-old Judge Arthur P. Stone of East Cambridge court were turned down today by the House rules committee at the State House.

The bill of Rep. Roland D. Sawyer of Ware for impeachment was reported "ought not to pass." A measure of Rep. Martin R. Schofield of South Boston for removal of the judge by "address" was given leave to withdraw.

Down Here Is 'Forgotten Man'

Ex-Kaiser's Big Day as Kin Weds

DOORN, The Netherlands, May 4 (AP)—An imperial figure in the uniform of commander of the Lifeguard Hussars, the 79-year-old former Kaiser of Germany today gave the official Hohenzollern blessing to the marriage of his grandson and Grand Duchess Kyra of the Russian Romanoffs.

Former Emperor Wilhelm was first to kiss the bride after the Protestant wedding ceremony in his exile castle here.

At the wedding dinner the ex-kaiser gave grandfatherly advice to the young couple, Prince Louis Ferdinand, son of the former crown prince, and the second daughter of Grand Duke Kirill (Cyril), pretender to the lost throne of all the Russias.

Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands and her consort, Prince Bernhard, attended.

Today's ceremony, last of three, was performed by the former Kaiser's private chaplain, the Rev. Bruno Doehring.

Louis and his bride are leaving late today for Germany to prepare for their honeymoon trip around the world, gift of the exile of Doorn.

EX-KAISER WILHELM

The two houses, whose powerful dynasties were toppled in the World War, in which they were on opposite sides, were not considered formally united until today's ceremony before the ex-kaiser.

The couple expect to arrive at New York on May 26 and will tour parts of the United States. In Detroit they plan to visit some of the prince's fellow workers in the auto factory in which he was employed a few years ago.

The modest palace at the outskirts of Doorn, to which the Kaiser fled after the war, was crowded with nobility and royalty for the ceremony.

Here the ex-Kaiser has lived quietly through the years, with his wife and a small staff of servants.

But today was different. He again was the proud leader of the Hohenzollerns, now united with the Romanoffs.

Clark-Goldberg Duel Final Round Tomorrow

Out of his many radio fans, who has ever heard of Crooner Samuel I. Goldberg of Blue Hill avenue, Dorchester?

But take the name of Buddy Clark—that's a different story.

This, in effect, will be the contention of Samuel I. Goldberg, radio crooner, when he goes into Suffolk probate court tomorrow seeking to have his name legally changed to Samuel Buddy Clark.

FACES PROTEST

But first Goldberg will have to face the protest of a direct descendant of a Pilgrim settler.

Harry Lincoln Clark, 43, of Walk Hill street, Jamaica Plain, who traces his ancestry back to Thomas Clark, first mate on the Mayflower, has filed a protest against Goldberg becoming Clark.

Goldberg, one-time West End boy, states the reason for the change is that he is known to stage, radio and screen as Buddy

Coogan Ignores Mother

LOS ANGELES, May 4 (AP)

—Mrs. Arthur L. Bernstein extended the olive branch to her son, Jackie Coogan, but the one-time child film star today showed no disposition to accept it.

Coogan has sued his mother and stepfather for an accounting of his screen earnings as a minor, estimating them at $4,000,000.

Mrs. Bernstein declared that if she retains control of her son's estate she will make him a "fair settlement."

"These proceedings are unnecessary," she said. "If Jackie had contacted me before filing the suit, I am sure we could have ironed out the difficulties."

"Jackie's charges against my husband are groundless and unfair. He knows that Mr. Bernstein has never claimed an interest in the money he earned, and never will."

"He also knows that my husband never exerted undue influence over him or myself. If he was so bitter against Mr. Bernstein, why didn't he say or do something about it when my marriage to him was pending?"

Jackie announced receipt of a letter from Ada U. Bank of Brooklyn, N. Y., saying she was secretary to William Grossman, New York attorney now dead, when the late John Coogan and his wife consulted him about establishing a trust fund for their actor son.

Coast Girl Heads Radcliffe Class

Florence W. Erskine of San Anselmo, Cal., today was chosen president of the Radcliffe class of 1939.

Other officers elected were: Kathleen Deady of Brooklyn, vice-president; Helen Sommers of St. Paul, Minn., secretary; Elsie M. Boyan of Cambridge, treasurer, and Ruth F. Grover of Euclid, O., representative-at-large.

Clark and he wants to make it legal as well as professional.

If the name change is allowed, the crooner's nine-months-old son, Tommy, will become Tommy Clark instead of Tommy Goldberg, and the wife and mother, the former Louise Hitz, daughter of Ralph Hitz, wealthy hotel chain manager, will be Louise Clark.

Goldberg is leaving New York at midnight for his appearance tomorrow, David C. Ganak, his attorney, declared today.

A large crowd is expected in the courtroom.

STORRS, Conn., May 4 (INS)—The original "Snow White" became ill after eating a poisoned apple.

At Connecticut State College today four co-ed candidates for "Snow White" had poison ivy as the result of their woodland ramblings while posing for their pictures.

One of the four will be selected by Walt Disney to rule over the junior prom. Those afflicted with ivy were Marion Adler of Stamford, Jane Andrews of Orange, Doris Hoskins of Fairfield, and Adele Slater of Plainville.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Meat

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, spicy or rich food or when you are nervous, worried or otherwise—your stomach may not be able to digest the food. You feel bloated, gassy, and your stomach may even hurt.

Indigestion may even take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes three little black tablets called Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to make the extra stomach fluids abundant, relieve nervousness, and get you back on your feet. Relief is so quick, it is amazing and one of the things people like best for indigestion.

Protestant Dr. Hyde Elected Eire Chief

DUBLIN, May 4 (INS)—Dr. Douglas Hyde, 75-year-old Gaelic scholar, historian, poet, dramatist and patriot, today was formally elected unopposed as first president of the republic of Eire. He is the first Protestant ever to hold high office in Eire.

"I heartily accept the office," Dr. Hyde said when advised of his election. "I will do my utmost to fulfill the task."

Dr. Hyde will take the oath of office about June 1.

ELECTION AGREEMENT
Under an agreement between the various political parties, all other candidates have stood down in favor of the candidacy of the greatest living Irishman, thus making a national plebiscite unnecessary on May 21, the date scheduled for the presidential election.

In the course of the next few weeks Dr. Hyde will leave his home in the mountains of County Roscommon and come to Dublin to occupy the presidential palace, the magnificent residence in Phoenix Park which for years was known as Viceroyal Lodge, home of the old viceroys of Ireland.

There, with his salary of $75,000 a year and a handsome expense allowance, he will be able to attempt to revive the old glories of the lodge, seen in pre-treaty days of brilliant receptions, balls and banquets.

IDEAL PRESIDENT

Dr. Hyde is expected to make an ideal President. A man of delightful charm and possessing a rare wit, he never has displayed any interest in politics, belongs to no political party, and has been out of the limelight for many years.

Before his name was blazoned across newspaper front pages as the presidential selection, he was better known to Ireland's school children than to their parents. His many books on Gaelic kept his name alive before the children, who take compulsory lessons in Eire and learn his poems by heart.

Map Designs For 72 New Navy Ships

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—

An augmented force of draftsmen and engineers bent over drawing boards at the navy department today, preparing designs for the 72 new ships authorized by the billion-dollar naval expansion program.

Their work was laid out for them by the Senate's two-to-one endorsement of the bill yesterday. The House already had approved the measure, which makes possible the mightiest fleet in the nation's history.

The navy anticipating that Congress would carry out President Roosevelt's request for a 20 per cent increase in tonnage, already had increased its draftsmen, who now number 265.

They work in close secrecy on general design, and hundreds of others, in navy yards and commercial establishments, work out the details.

The expansion bill authorizes construction but provides no funds. Informed officials predicted the first request for accompanying appropriations would go to Congress next January.

A joint House and Senate committee now must compare differences between the Senate and House versions. There appeared to be only two real issues—an authorization for $1,000,000 dirigible and a $12,000,000 authorization for experiments with inventions.

Knudsen Raps CIO, Wagner Labor Act

WASHINGTON, May 4—The boss of General Motors today told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce capital, labor and government must pull together and practice self-discipline and thrift, or autocracy will supplant democracy in the nation.

William S. Knudsen, General Motors president, brought this message to the chamber after other speakers advanced a sincere argument for peace between the workman and his employer, and proposed "realistic" conferences between these two factions for the mutual advantage of both.

The Wagner labor relations act, which he said is badly administered, was blamed by Knudsen as the cause of much of the country's ills, and he said every one must work together or all would be lost.

"Unless we all work together and practice self-discipline, unless we think independently and practice thrift," he said, "democracy will fail and be supplanted by autocracy in some form."

STUMPED BY CIO

These observations followed an outline of what Knudsen pictured as shortcomings of industry and the government, shortcomings which he said have worked to destroy a deep American feeling of pride in work. Loose relief spending, a new alliance between government and the industrial union, and general recession, he said were rapidly carrying the nation backward instead of forward.

For the first time since the 44-day sit strike at General Motors last year, Knudsen publicly explained the strike and the peace negotiations which led to a collective bargaining contract between the United Automobile Workers of America, a Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate, and the auto concern.

When the sit-down technique was first employed, he said, every one looked to Washington for an expression "as to what was law anyway."

"The more Washington vacillated, the more mob hysteria was employed by the CIO union," he charged. "... Whatever may be said against large corporations, they are law-abiding and want to do the right thing, but we were somewhat stumped by the new alliance between government and the industrial union."

TELLS OF TROUBLES

He declared General Motors leaders went on to Washington, where the government officials asked them to negotiate with CIO Chairman John L. Lewis.

Eventually, he said, a settlement was worked out, but not until the strike loss to workers had reached $25,000,000.

But, he continued, the company's troubles still were far from over.

He admitted that the international officers of the union "tried manfully" to keep things going "but they never knew when or where trouble was going to start and were always behind the procession rather than ahead of it."

Knudsen said he saw elements of good in the economic picture of the country. He said conditions were better today than in the past. A real application of "tried and true American principles," he concluded, would restore prosperity and economic balance.

RAPS WAGNER ACT

The largest drawback to good industrial relations is, of course, the Wagner Act," he declared. "The National Labor Relations Board set up to administer the act makes no pretense even of paying any attention to the employer's side of the case. He can only be heard when he is summoned and he knows before he goes that there is no record of a single decision where he has had a ghost of a show, so what!"

Despite all these faults, the United States is today the strongest bulwark of liberty and democracy in the world, said the speaker, and capital, labor and government must work to keep it so.

Canada Cardinal Guest of Boston Group Today

Cardinal Jean Marie Rodrigue Villeneuve, primate of Canada, was due in Boston today as honor guest of La Societe Historique Franco-Canadienne at a Hotel Somerset reception to be attended by Cardinal O'Connell.

He was to make the trip here from Lowell, where yesterday he declared before 250 French-American clergymen from all parts of New England that Christian principles are the only solution to present day problems.

Christian ethics in business and politics is a pressing need, he said. "We cannot be satisfied with conditions in our churches," Cardinal Villeneuve stated, "even if we think everything is going all right. We must work to conquer those who do not come to church and those who come only infrequently."

Earlier today the Cardinal was scheduled to celebrate a solemn high mass in St. Jean Baptiste Church in Lowell. Tomorrow he will speak at the 25th anniversary of the founding of St. Anne's Academy in Marlboro.

Roosevelt Off To Fish Again

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 4 (AP)—The cruiser Philadelphia arrived off Somboro Island in the Lesser Antilles early today. An hour and a half later President Roosevelt and his party started their second fishing expedition.

A radio message from the vessel received here said she dropped anchor about 1000 yards from a lighthouse on the island.

Won't 'Hoop It Up'

Miss Mary Gance, Wellesley College senior who won the annual hoop race, would like to carry out the tradition of "first wed after graduation," but she's not accepting proposals from the "American Society for the Immediate Betrothal of the Winner of the Wellesley Hoop Race," thank you.

This was definite today after three Harvard youths, reportedly candidates for the Harvard Crimson staff, sought her hand under that lengthy title. They even travelled to Wellesley with a pseudo-minister to perform the rites, but got only the cold shoulder.

Nazi Nobel Winner Dies

BERLIN, May 4 (INS)—Carl Von Ossietzky, German writer who was awarded the Nobel peace prize of $40,000 in 1936, died today.

A pacifist, Ossietzky became a political prisoner after the rise of the Nazi regime.

'Jokers' in Dies Immigration Bill Bared

WASHINGTON, May 4 — Here are some further little publicized facts about the Dies bill, which is now awaiting final action in the United States Senate.

The original Dies bill, as introduced in the House in April, 1937, was regarded as a meritorious bill. However, the acting commissioner of immigration appeared before the House committee in support of amendments written into the bill.

DISGUISED NAME
As a consequence of the House committee amendments, when the House of Representatives hastily passed the so-called Dies bill last June, it actually passed the discredited and previously rejected Kerr-Coolidge bill under a new and disguising name.

In the Senate, the bill was referred to the committee on immigration. Two additional "jokers" were written into the bill.

The Dies bill authorized the Secretary of Labor to prevent the deportation of deportable aliens, but required the secretary to report the facts.

Joker No. 1 provides that "any alien permitted to remain in the United States" under the terms of the proposed law "shall not thereafter be subject to exclusion or expulsion for the same cause."

ALWAYS RE-ADMITTED
The other joker provides that any alien who "establishes" that he has been "previously lawfully admitted" to the United States may visit Mexico, Canada or Cuba ad lib, and be always re-admitted to the United States.

Hurley Signs Prison Bill

Governor Hurley today signed five bills, including one which will give time off for good behavior to inmates of state penal institutions.

Prisoners who observe the rules and have not been subjected to punishment will have deducted from their sentences one day for every month in the case of sentences of not less than four months and more than one year.

Prisoners sentenced to 10 years or more will be given six days deduction for every month of good behavior.

It is believed by many prison officials that much of the unrest in Massachusetts prisons will be eliminated.

Conant to Deliver Baccalaureate

President James Bryant Conant of Harvard University will deliver the baccalaureate sermon on June 20 in Memorial Church to open the first Commencement week of Harvard's fourth century, it was announced today.

The traditional merriment of Class Day Week at Harvard, this year expected to be bigger than ever, will begin Monday evening, June 21, with the spread and dance at Lowell House.

Pet Lion Bites Roscoe Turner

CHICAGO, May 4 (AP)—Roscoe Turner, transcontinental speed flier, was recovering at a hospital today from an infected arm which he said resulted from a bite by his pet African lion.

Turner said the lion, eight years old and weighing 400 pounds, bit him while they were playing together at the Union air terminal in Los Angeles two weeks ago.

SHIP CALLS HELP

NEW YORK, May 4 (INS)—The 3779-ton steamer Quirinale was in distress today about 100 miles east of the Azores, according to an SOS intercepted by Mackay Radio, which indicated the engines had broken down.

Windsor Holds 3 High Ranks, Gets No Pay

LONDON, May 4 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor still holds the highest ranks in all three British fighting services but gets no pay for them, a question in the House of Commons brought out today.

Colonel David John Colville, financial secretary of the Treasury, answering a question asked yesterday by Laborite J. R. Leslie, said: "His Royal Highness, the Duke of Windsor, holds the rank of admiral of the fleet in the Royal Navy, of field marshal in the Army, and of marshal of the Royal Air Force."

"He is not actively employed by any of the defense services and receives no emoluments from their votes." (Votes are the sums voted by Parliament for the fighting forces.)

Blasts Local Rule of WPA

Hitting out at Governor Hurley's suggestion that control of WPA projects be given back to local authorities, Ray C. Brannon, New England field representative of the WPA, today told 1500 employees that communists should not have control because "they must first be educated to what they need."

Brannon was principal speaker at the Massachusetts WPA convention that opened its three-day meeting at the Hotel Bradford today.

"The local authorities pick out the projects now," he said, "and if there is something the matter with the work, they should be blamed."

Colonel John J. McDonough, Massachusetts administrator, outlined the purpose of the convention, and said that only 316 of the state's 107,047 workers are non-relief employees.

Washing test, boiled for an hour in an electric washer, using strong lye soap, dried, ironed and rewashed under same conditions. White showed no traces of yellow. Tan and blue changed color so little it would not be detected except by careful comparison with original. Shrinkage was less than ½ of 1% in warp and filling.

Fastness to light. Exposed to sunlight equivalent to 75 hours of direct sunlight (more than a season). White stayed white, blue showed no change in color, tan just a shade.

Perspiration. Standard perspiration solutions applied for 48 hours, a severe test. No transfer of color whatsoever.

Seams. The chemist thinks the seams too strong.

Fabric count. Warp, 144 threads to inch. Filling, 76 threads to inch.

Fastness to crocking (both wet and dry). No evidence of transfer.

Mystery Sleuth Boston Patrolman

Patrolman John Hourihan, clerk at South End station, was today revealed as the indefatigable policeman who, on his own time, probed the holdup slaying of a Waltham watchman and obtained a confession from a Concord Reformatory inmate.

Since July, 1936, Hourihan has worked steadily on the apparently baffling case, and the trail he picked up finally led to the convict, now at Concord for larceny and violation of parole.

The convict was free at the time of the slaying.
As a result of the confession, District Attorney Warren L. Bishop and Captain John Stokes, chief of the state detectives, went into conference today in Bishop's office.

Bishop stated, after the conference, that he will go to Concord tomorrow and himself interview the convict.

The prosecutor said he has not seen the confession, but would be shown it today by Hourihan at an afternoon conference, attended also by officers who worked originally on the holdup slaying.

The body of the watchman, Harry E. Bradley, father of 10 children, was found in eight feet of water in the rear of the Waltham Watch Company, his own strap bound tightly about his neck.

Dr. Troxell's Ban Is Lifted For Pension

The suspension of Dr. G. Allen Troxell, who resigned as assistant superintendent of Medfield State Hospital, was lifted for one day that he might become eligible for a pension, it was learned today.

When Doctor Troxell, who was receiving $4020 and maintenance, wrote out his resignation he was not under suspension, therefore, and he will draw retirement pay from the state.

The resignation was written Saturday.

It was conveyed to the trustees, who met and accepted it. At the same time they accepted the resignation of Dr. Troxell's wife as housekeeper at the hospital, at $1200 a year and maintenance.

No reason for the Troxell resignation was given, but his suspension came as the result of charges, by State Auditor Thomas H. Buckley, of irregularities in burial of the pauper insane dead.

Roosevelt Off Small Island

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt, aboard the cruiser Philadelphia, sought the shelter of a little known island—Sombbrero—in the Northern Lesser Antilles today after a 315-mile run from a fishing stopover off Cape Rafael, Santo Domingo.

The navy yard was advised by radio that the naval vessel carrying the President and his party on a fuel and depth-testing a journey through the West Indies left Cape Rafael, Samana Bay, at 1:30 P. M. yesterday.

Three hours of fishing yesterday in small boats brought the President and his companions a batch of small fish.

'Truce' Declared In Church Fight

Birmingham, Ala., May 4 (AP)—Laymen opposed to unification of the North and South branches of Methodism extended a "truce" today, pending decision of the judiciary committee on constitutionality of the merger approved last week by the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

The anti-unificationist leaders asked congregations planning "secession" to withhold action, but reiterated they were prepared to carry the fight into civil court if the judicial council upheld the conference vote.

Seek Mother Of Dead Baby

Police today searched for the mother of a day-old infant, believed murdered, whose body was found with a cord tied around its throat in a Hopedale street, Allston, left by Mary Roach, 5, and Francis Healey, 7.

Senate Foes Move to Block Hour Bill Action

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Senate foes discussed precautionary strategy today for blocking wage-hour legislation in the event determined administration efforts to force it through the House should prove successful.

The Senate passed a wage-hour bill last summer, but Senators George (D., of Georgia) and Smith (D., of South Carolina) said that since the House measure differs so greatly, it should go to the Senate labor committee instead of directly to a joint conference committee.

Across the Capitol, House proponents of the legislation renewed their campaign for organized labor's support of their efforts to force the bill to the floor by May 23.

An unofficial steering committee, headed by representative Healey (D., of Massachusetts), sought the aid of John L. Lewis, CIO leader, in getting the required signatures of House members to a petition to override the House rules committee, which refused last week to give the bill light-of-way.

Sally's Harvard Lecture All Set

BALTIMORE, May 4 (INS)—Professor Sally Rand of a fan and bubble dance fame, who is in Baltimore preparing for a new legitimate play, put finishing touches today on the lecture she is to deliver at Harvard tomorrow night on "How to Be Intelligent Though Educated."

From a couple of ostrich feathers to the hallowed ivy of Cambridge is quite a jump, but Sally feels she has a vital message for the class of 1941 which she invited her to speak.

"I am going up to Harvard to tell the boys to be Daniel Boones."

STILL FRONTIERS

"There are still some frontiers left. While they can't hunt the buffalo they can have their frontiers in politics and labor, where they can go out and pioneer."

"I am not going to Harvard with my fame and my bubbles. I am going up there to give the boys a serious talk."

Sally said she quit school after the seventh grade, but pointed out she had "gone a long way since then" and had taken many courses. Sally, who neither sings nor dances in the new play, was asked if she had abandoned the bubble dance altogether. She replied:

"My bubbles and fans are in storage right now, but a girl's got to eat. Anyway, $2500 (the price Sally gets for a fan dance) is a fine fee for fan dancing. When the legitimate theater rewards me as handsomely I'll give up the bubbles."

FILM JOB AHEAD

On June 15 Sally will go to Hollywood to make a picture, without fans.

Mrs. Rand will fly to Boston tomorrow and will be met by Geoffrey Clark, Harvard 1941, who extended the invitation in behalf of the class. She will return to Baltimore Friday to complete rehearsals for Sidney Howard's Pulitzer prize play, "They Know What They Wanted," which opens here next week.

$30 Old Age Pensions, Plan Of Sen. Byrnes

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Chairman Byrnes (D.) of South Carolina, of the Senate Unemployment Committee, urged today that the Social Security reserve system be abandoned in favor of a "pay as you go" method, to provide old age pensions of $30 a month.

Byrnes said committee investigation showed that proposed actuarial payments to be made under the law, beginning in 1942, would yield an average of only $18 per beneficiary.

If funds could be paid out as they were received instead of being impounded in a reserve, he said, a $30 average would be possible.

"A man can't live on an $18 a month pension and if that is all of his income, he is going to have to go on relief, too," Byrnes said.

He said he had become convinced that pensions would have to be entirely too small if the starting date of old age payments were advanced to January 1, 1939, as suggested in the committee's recent report.

Byrnes said his committee would undertake a thorough study of social security amendments when it resumes hearings next Fall.

Auto Hurts Kill Haverhill Child

HAVERHILL, May 4 (AP)—Helen, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Dumas, died today from injuries suffered Monday when she was struck by an automobile driven by Norman L. McLeod of Danvers. Police reported the child stepped from behind a parked car into the path of McLeod's machine.

Law Pokes At Epic Card Row

LOS ANGELES, May 4 (INS).—The district attorney's office today began a wide open investigation of the now famous poker game between Lew Brice, former New Yorker and brother of Fanny Brice, and Squire Harry Talbot Clifton of England.

Brice insists he won approximately $150,000 from Clifton when he held three sevens against Clifton's two pair. Furthermore, he wants the money. But payments have been stopped.

John Klein, chief investigator for the district attorney, said he wants to learn about:

Reports that two girls joined a champagne party after the game.

Conflicting stories on how many packs of cards were in the room and how they came to be there.

Whether it was good old draw, as reported by Tommy Guinan, one of the participants, or stud, which is not sanctioned by law in California.

That Clifton lost $150,000 to Brice in one pot, as he claims, or did he lose it gradually during the afternoon of play, as Brice contends?

He ordered Brice and Guinan, the latter a brother of the late Texas Guinan to remain in town. Klein also ordered his men to "pick up and bring in for questioning" Jack Reynolds and George Lewis, who also sat in the epic game.

Reveal Plot to Fix Dolan Case Jurors

the several defendants, the following were allegedly solicited:

"Frederick Drew, Herbert Foley, Thomas Morrissey, Jeremiah Curran, Frank Daley, Thomas Garrity, Conrad Langier, Robert Dunlop, William Lovett, Corrado Benda and 12 others whose names are unknown to the complainant."

Drew, Foley, Curran, Daley, Garrity, Langier, Dunlop "and 12 others" were allegedly offered gifts and gratuities, Doyle declared in his answers.

He also stated that "according to statements of the several defendants it was agreed that gifts and gratuities be given" to the same prospective jurors.

NO SPECIFIC REFERENCE

Doyle said in his reply that an alleged attempt was made of influence Alexander Rose.

He named Drew, Foley, Morrissey, Curran, Daley, Garrity, Langier, Dunlop, Lovett, Benda and 12 others as those who were allegedly to be influenced.

In his answers Doyle made no specific reference to any of the defendants—merely stating "according to statements of the several defendants."

Previous to the prosecutor's action in filing his answers, it was learned that the witnesses, who heard the alleged "jury fixing" plot, made their sworn statements to Doyle, Police Sergeant John J. Watkins and a stenographer last Saturday.

Just as secret as the alleged hotel suite "jury-fixing-plot" was the meeting of these witnesses. Instead of being taken to the district attorney's office in the Pemberton square courthouse building, they were accompanied to a State street, downtown, office. Their identities are being closely guarded.

These witnesses, in telling authorities of the conversation they overheard, told how each juror on the prospective list was named. They quoted the conversation of the persons present as one of the group read the list of names.

As the name of one juror was read, one of those present replied, according to the witnesses' statements:

"Well, he's taken care of. We took care of him through his brother-in-law."

Concerning another juror, another reply was made:

"Oh, he's taken care of."

And as another name was read, the reply was made:

"He was O. K. but he got 'sold.' We'll have to take care of him."

ORDERED TO ANSWER

Judge Frederick W. Fosdick instructed Doyle yesterday to answer more fully the question dealing with those alleged to be involved.

Dolan, Walter Quinn, former Rep. Robert Dunsmore, Harold Simpson and three others, unidentified "John Does," were named in contempt petitions as allegedly conspiring to bribe prospective jurors.

The contempt petitions had been filed by Doyle on the eve of the scheduled opening of the trial of Dolan, Quinn and Edward J. Supple several weeks ago. Supple is in no way connected with the contempt proceedings.

The three men are due to go on trial on charges growing out of alleged illegal bond transactions between the city and the Legal Securities Corporation, the company allegedly formed by Dolan while he was city treasurer.

Retail Trade Comparisons Misleading

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW
Financial Editor

When a retailer announces that he has secured a new line of goods, it is not unusual for him to make a comparison of prices with those of his competitors.

These comparisons, however, are not always as misleading as they seem. They are, in fact, a double-edged sword. If the retailer is not careful, he may find himself in a position where he is not only not making a profit, but is also losing money.

Stocks Irregular

A buying movement in gold stocks featured the market today and stimulated purchasing in other groups after a straggling retreat from a point or more were reduced near the close.

Right now there is a wide variety of opinion as to what the market will do in the near future. Some believe that the market will continue to rise, while others believe that it will fall.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the American Can Company, it was decided to increase the dividend from $1.00 to $1.10 per share.

It is also reported that the American Can Company will be increasing its production of cans for the year 1933.

TRADE FORECAST

The best professional and broker age opinion in our State St. acquaintance is that May trade will be down slightly, June very little if any lower, and July will provide the rounding out or base for later recovery. And most important of all is that while further declines are anticipated, it is definitely time to begin thinking of the upturn to come and forget the dismal features of the past 12 months.

TECHNICAL RALLY

The upturn in prices which has taken place from Monday's lows is a purely technical rally so far. Proof is offered by the industrial, which as the most severely depressed of all groups, were entitled to rally first. Rails held in a narrow range during the industrial dip and still persist in doing nothing of moment.

It is not believed that the rally has reached the point where it will be self-sustaining. It is expected that the market will continue to fluctuate for some time before it reaches a point where it will be self-sustaining.

Finds Maine Justice Swift

ROCKLAND, Me., May 4.—John F. Anderson, 25, formerly of South Boston, today began a trial in Maine state court on a charge of kidnapping. Anderson was charged with kidnapping a woman from Maine just as he was being taken to lower court on a charge of kidnapping. Anderson's attorneys were heard and it was announced that his fingerprints matched those left behind in a recent break on the night of his arrest.

The grand jury, in session, brought an indictment today against Anderson for kidnapping.

The woman was found guilty and was sentenced.

Joan Arc Club Plans Bridge

Next Saturday afternoon, in Filene's restaurant, members of Joan Arc Club will entertain their friends at a luncheon bridge party, proceeds of which will be sent to Rev. Dr. William A. Sullivan, pastor of St. Augustine's parish, South Boston, to help further his work in North Dakota.

Members of the club are actively affiliated with many Catholic organizations, including Guild of St. Elizabeth, Guild of the Infant Saviour, Guild of St. Francis, the Guild, Philomena, and Notre Dame Alumnae.

Meanwhile they have preserved their own identity and the original 14 members have for 16 years devoted their time and energies to charity and good deeds.

N. E. Coke 'Price Protection' Plan Outlined

A "price protection" plan for fuel oil customers, which is already under consideration, was announced today by the New England Coke Company.

R. P. Tibbitts, vice president of the company, explained that the plan, which is a contract, will guarantee customers to pay "small" initial orders at current low prices and obtain protection against possible rising prices next fall and winter.

It was stated that all those who sign contracts at this time will be protected in today's price no matter how high the price the fuel may go in the winter. This applies to all re-orders throughout the year.

"This plan results in steady employment for our own thousands of employees," Tibbitts declared.

BOSTON AMERICAN

WEDNESDAY, MAY 4, 1938

Keep Gate Shut!

The Editor Says: Shall thousands of deportable alien criminals be permitted to remain in the United States?

Shall the deportation of these pariahs and dangerous undesirables be made forever impossible?

Shall the door to American citizenship now closed against them because of their crimes be opened to them?

Shall these criminal aliens be made a privileged class in America—MORE privileged even than law-abiding American citizens?

These are the questions which the United States Senate must answer.

For the House of Representatives has passed the measure known as the Dies Bill, H. R. No. 6391, which, according to its opponents, would give the Secretary of Labor DICTATORIAL POWERS to suspend or nullify existing mandatory deportation laws affecting undesirable and deportable aliens, and would result IMMEDIATELY in quantifying for American citizenship thousands of ALIEN CRIMINALS.

IMPORTANT TO ALL persons interested in the present and future welfare of the United States is the close analysis of the Dies Bill made by Mr. John B. Trevor, president of the American Coalition of Patriotic Societies. He tells us:

"One of the most vicious features of this bill is the fact that it PAVES THE WAY to citizenship for aliens who have been guilty of heinous offenses, such as perjury, forgery and bribery of public officials.

"All Americans should know that a citizen who is convicted of one of these offenses is automatically deprived of his right to vote.

"This bill, therefore, puts aliens in a FAVORED CATEGORY.

"It is class legislation with a vengeance, and class legislation for the MOST UNDESIRABLE ELEMENT TO BE FOUND IN ANY COMMUNITY IN THE UNITED STATES."

DEFEAT THE BILL NOW! That must be the purpose of every Senator who has the slightest regard for the people at home.

That must also be the plea of every citizen who can possibly afford to write to his Senators.

IT MUST BE DEFEATED.

For the safety and happiness of America and Americans it must be defeated NOW.

HOPEFUL NEWS is the announcement of the defeat of the proposed sales tax in the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

The sales tax measure was particularly unfair. Coming at this time when Massachusetts is doing her utmost to emerge from the depression, it was needless and regrettable attempt to further restrict and discourage enterprise.

Moreover, it spared nobody. Even the recipient of the five-dollar welfare order would have been compelled to contribute a share of the revenue.

It is now where it should have been months ago—in the wastebasket. Let us hope it stays there.

The Political Parade

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

WASHINGTON, May 4

SOMEWHERE in the country to-day—maybe out in a cornfield or plucking away at an office desk—is an individual who little appreciates what is in store for him.

He is the next Republican candidate for President of the United States.

He may be a Senator or a Representative in Congress, but it is more likely that he will prove to be a man who this year is elected the Republican Governor of a pivotal State.

Thirty-three States are going to elect governors this year, and in 10 of them, outside the South, the Republican party will have a chance to present a new national leader for the consideration of the American people. These ten are important states.

These ten vital states are Pennsylvania, Oregon, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Ohio, Michigan, New York, Massachusetts, and Connecticut in the order in which their primaries or conventions will be held.

Already Republican effort is being concentrated upon building up party strength in a group of important States.

These are New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Iowa and Massachusetts.

Of these, the immediate situation is more intriguing in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Iowa, where Republican strength is increasing.

Any one of the states may supply the next Republican candidate for President.

George Wilson, defeated by N. G. Kraschel for governor of Iowa two years ago by about 2,500 in the Roosevelt landslide year, will probably be swept into office with the whole state Republican ticket. Great dissatisfaction with the New Deal looms in the corn belt.

In Pennsylvania, where the Democrats have fallen into cutting each other's throats over a division of the spoils, Republican prospects are 100 per cent better than they were six months ago.

Incidentally, national Republicans in Washington are informed that Justice Arthur H. Jones, who is a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in Michigan, great headway against Clifford Prentiss.

In South Dakota, where most of the New Deal was tried 20 years ago, the swing back to conservatism, as reflected in reports to Washington, is pronounced as to lead to hopes for a complete Republican sweep this year.

'Bugs' Baer Says:

The G-men have captured a sucker lot of 2,000,000 cigarettes, as we said last month, a sucker lot in the midst of the nation taken by the underworld.

However, it works out even as the G-men have made a sucker lot of the suckers who make sucker bets.

We would not want to be on either side. But something tells us that we are one of the gullible 2,500,000.

And, if there are that many of us, why don't we have a clubhouse?

We also asked that question some time ago. But there was no answer. There is no use of expecting two soft touches, as suckers are known, to form any sort of protective organization. They refuse to associate. No sucker believes he is one.

And that's where the sucker scores. The surest mark of a soft touch is that he is sure the other mugg is the pushover.

Right there and then is when the chiseler steps in and takes the soft touch like an apple on a stick. Say, a real sucker actually helps to pack himself away. He will give the sucker the paper to wrap himself in and also furnish the string.

What of Today, Tomorrow?

Get All Job Facts, Senator Lodge Says

The Boston Evening American today presents the fourth in a series of exclusive articles dealing the views of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., and Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of North Attleboro, on important matters now before the nation.

The third article, in which Senator Lodge suggested that Social Security funds be turned back to the States for investment and conservation, appeared in Tuesday's Boston Evening American.

By JOHN BRADFORD MAIN

Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

Copyrighted, 1938, by THE BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

One of the major mysteries of Washington is why there has been no accurate, nor even reasonably reliable, census of unemployment.

"The recent Bigger census," Massachusetts' Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., told this reporter, "although as ably administered as the defective legislation creating it permitted, was out of date before it ever became public."

It seems incredible, perhaps, that NO ONE KNOWS just how many unemployed persons in the United States there are, nor WHERE they are, nor into what branches of business or industry they fall, nor how many men there are, or women, nor what is being done for them, exactly, by way of relief. Yet, that is the actual case.

One reason for this may be the cost—although, it is pointed out, the government has not hesitated to spend money in other directions.

According to the Bureau of the Census, Senator Lodge told this reporter, it would take between $17,000,000 and $20,000,000 to make a census of the unemployed.

Day by day, however, the necessity for an accurate, kept-up-to-date survey becomes more and more pressing.

Not only unemployment relief is involved.

"Machinery for a true and continuing unemployment census should be set up which will serve as a basis not only for legislation pertaining to and for the administration of relief," Senator Lodge declared, "but which will also constitute the basis for a scientific treatment on a national scale of the question of wages and hours."

"With up-to-date figures, we could come to grips with the problem in an effective manner. We could then really 'PRIME THE PUMP,' instead of spraying the hose all over the lot."

Massachusetts and the rest of the New England states have their backs to the wall in this matter of "wages and hours."

What the Hull reciprocal-trade treaties do to New England abroad, New England members of both houses of Congress fear, the New Deal's proposed "wages and hours" law will do to New England at home.

One of the principal objections voiced to the Hull trade pacts is that they have been entered into without any SCIENTIFIC basis—without any ACCURATE determination of their probable effects upon American industries and American wage-earners and American standards of living.

Already, in consequence, New England especially is finding the threatened flood of goods made by cheap foreign labor ruinous. ALL OVER NEW ENGLAND MILLS ARE CLOSING, UNEMPLOYMENT IS INCREASING, AS A RESULT. The proposed "wages and hours" bill, Senator Lodge pointed out to this reporter, threatens to be passed with the same lack of any true scientific basis — AND WITH EQUALLY DISASTROUS RESULTS.

In the House, Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., from North Attleboro explained:

"The trade treaties menace New England with cheap foreign labor. The 'wages and hours' bill menaces New England with cheap labor here at home."

"For some years past now there has been a steady trickle of mills out of New England. They have left New England and have gone, many of them, for example, down South."

"Why? LOWER WAGES! LONGER HOURS!"

"Now we're in bad trouble. This trade treaty stuff is going on the counters at ruinous prices in competition with New England-made goods."

"If the Southern mills now, get all the 'breaks' in this proposed 'wages and hours' law WHERE WILL THAT LEAVE US?"

"It'll drive the mills out of New England! They won't be able to meet foreign AND SOUTHERN COMPETITION."

"The worst of it all is just like the trade treaties, no one seems to know just what it's all about. No one's stopped to figure it out scientifically, what it will mean to one section of the country, what it will do to another."

"No one's got any way to take unemployment into consideration. How're you going to set wages and hours if you don't know what the employment situation is?"

Senator Lodge declared, emphatically, to this reporter:

"THERE IS A POSSIBLE SOLUTION — AN EXPANDING AND CONTRACTING 'WAGES AND HOURS' ACT, BASED SCIENTIFICALLY ON ACCURATE, CONSTANTLY UP-TO-DATE FIGURES ON EMPLOYMENT, UNEMPLOYMENT AND PRODUCTION."

"The details still are hazy in my own mind. I don't know exactly what form the suggestion will take in final shape."

"BUT THIS I DO KNOW. To go blindly into 'wages and hours' legislation without any background of scientific knowledge—without accurate, up-to-date figures—without knowledge of local and sectional employment and unemployment problems—without any measuring stick at all, just guesswork and political expediency and the desire of one section to profit even at the expense of another or of all the rest of the country—WILL BE SHEER DISASTER."

"Don't blame Roosevelt or the 'New Deal'—BLAME CONGRESS, where the responsibility belongs," says Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of North Attleboro—in TOMORROW'S BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN.

Once Over Lightly:

Mac West will have grossed more than $35,000 when she completes her visit tonight . . . And that, as someone has remarked, isn't a lot. No records will be shattered, but the engagement is highly satisfactory to all concerned . . . Miss West will leave town with a tidy bundle of bills approximating a total of $17,500 which should help carry her through the summer off.

Your correspondent has learned that the visit to Cumberland Hills by Nino Martini, the Metropolitan Opera star, is a social one and in no wise concerned with business. . . . Perhaps therein, there is a real story. Nino was the guest of Elisa Landi, the star who seems to have turned her lately back on Hollywood for the time being. Miss Landi is appearing as the chief performer in "The Warrior's Husband" at Cumberland Hills this month.

Snake Is Trout Bait

BARRI, VI, May 4 (AP)—With a single cast of his line, Dr H. A. Drew pulled in an 8½ inch trout and a nine-inch snake.

The doctor was about to place the fish in his creel when the head of the snake appeared from the fish's mouth. The physician is now considering using snakes as bait on future trips.

BETTY ALDEN

On Beacon Hill

Post Debs at Luncheon;
New Buds Plan Season

By BETTY ALDEN

THE King is dead, long live the King! . . . off with the old, on with the new! . . . or words to that effect . . . Whether a royal reign, a vogue, or a debutante season, it's the same old story . . . While Jean Halladay was holding a sort of post mortem party for the late debutante season, yesterday afternoon, many of the girls on the new deb list were busily planning their parties to be held as soon as they graduate from school in June . . .

About forty girls gathered at Jean's Chestnut Hill house for an informal buffet luncheon . . . after which there was time to play a hand or two of bridge and discuss how it feels to be a post debutante, and no longer an ingenue on the social stage . . .

Later in the afternoon Jean and some of her guests went over to a cocktail party at Lowell House where they joined a few Harvardians in drinking a farewell toast to their debutante year . . . The cocktail party was in honor of the ushers at the Harvard Dramatic Club's spring production this week-end . . . Jean is head usher for all three performances, and has managed to squeeze this added duty in between her study and preparation for the interesting job she will hold this summer as an instructor in dramatics at a summer camp in Vermont . . .

Debs' Whirl Starts Soon

FIRST EDDIES of the proverbial debutante whirl will begin to swirl the first week-end in June . . . Saturday, the fourth, will give the buds a fair sample of the activity which will grow more and more intense until the climax of the season in January . . . A luncheon for Diana Fraser will start the ball rolling . . . Details of the party have not been settled as yet, and Diana, whose nickname is "In" doesn't know where it will be held, though presumably at her father's Cambridge home . . . for it will be a little early to have opened their summer place at Eastern Point, Gloucester, where "In" plans to spend the summer sailing small boats in the various competitions . . .

As soon as the luncheon is over the youngsters will drive over to Brookline for Beatrice "Beachie" Talbot's three-in-one affair . . . tea, dinner and dancing . . . Beachie is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Fritz B. Talbot, and has a post-deb sister, Ruth, who can help her with her first-year-out problems . . . She will graduate from Winsor School June 3 . . .

A tip to Harvardians and others who will act as ushers and form the stag lines at deb parties and dances! . . . Jot down a note that if you want to gain favor in the eyes of pretty Jane Bliss, don't call her "Blissie," even though her girl friends do . . . She doesn't like it! . . . Jane will be a co-hostess with Priscilla Brett at a luncheon at The Country Club June 8 . . . They are both seniors at the May School . . .

CELIA HUBBARD'S secret ambition is to be a fashion designer, so all her friends will wait expectantly to see what dress she wears at the luncheon her parents are giving for her, June 17, at their summer home in Cohasset . . . She is another Winsor senior, and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Eliot T. Hubbard of Cambridge . . .

Jane Lee, daughter of the Charles S. Lee of Beacon street, will spend the summer in the Berkshires preparing for an active and festive first year out . . . Her debut is scheduled for September 14 at the Ritz-Carlton . . . Jane, a tall, slender blonde, is a May School senior, loves to ride horseback, and plans to study interior decorating . . .

It's Such a Joy . . .

to have your friends say, "What have you been doing? I've never seen any one so lovely." Come to Elizabeth Arden's salon for a slender and perfectly proportioned figure.

IF MOTHERS ONLY KNEW. Many children become infested with Intestinal Round Worms (Ascaris Lumbricoides) — the most common human parasites, but are sometimes treated for other illnesses. If Round Worms are suspected—Remember:

Dr. True's Elixir
THE TRUE FAMILY LAXATIVE AND ROUND WORM EXPELLER

SINCE 1851 mothers have given children Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Round Worm Expeller to expel Round Worms when present and because it is a mild laxative, agreeable to taste. At Druggists.

Loans: $100 to $1000 or more

Fair and Warmer . .

Sickness and other misfortunes often add to the burden of increased winter living costs. With fair and warmer weather ahead, responsible people are liquidating winter worries through our Monthly Payment Plan. They pay overdue bills and other debts by means of a single low-cost personal loan of $100 to $1000 or more, with systematic repayment during an extended period. Life insurance protection is provided on every loan. . . . You need not be a depositor to use this service, available at our main office or at any of the sixteen Shawmut branches.

PRIVATE AND PERSONAL

How can a loan be really personal and private if you have to go around asking friends and relatives to sign or endorse your note? Here you can be sure of strict privacy in every way. You don't have to get co-makers. You don't need a special kind of security. Often Personal makes loans to people who have no other kind of security except a plain note with their own signature alone.

Our main requirement is just your ability to repay small regular amounts. Unexpected demands hit every body at some time. When you need cash quickly, come in and talk it over in a private consultation room. You won't be asking us a favor—we'll appreciate your coming.

Luck Kind To Red Sox

Cronin Guessed Right; Cochrane Second Best

By JOE CASHMAN

If it's the outcome of games settled by one run that spells the difference between a money berth and one of the lower rungs in the ladder, then our Red Sox are entitled to plenty of first division consideration.

The Croninmen have engaged in two such nip and tuck struggles to date and on each occasion had the courage, stamina and luck to emerge victorious.

The first time was against the world champion Yankees. Though outbatted 13 to 3, the Fenway flock squeezed through to a 3 to 2 decision.

WHITE SUFFER

The second was in the opener of the current series with Detroit's snarling Tigers, which saw the natives going into extra innings for the first time this year and finally winning out 4 to 3 to clinch into second place and give Moose Grove his third straight victory.

It was a fray reminiscent of those epic Sox-Tiger tussles of the Carrigan-Cobb era and one that for thrills isn't likely to be equaled at the Fens again this season.

The Sox eventually won because Joe Cronin was more fortunate in his master-minding than was "Mickey" Cochrane.

"Mike" put on Jo-Jo White to run for Rudy York with the score tied in the eighth, and the Bengal managed to reach third with one out, and the Bengal bases loaded to let Pitcher Lawson go to bat and try to squeeze home the run.

The Sox caught the sign, Grove made a pitchout and White was nipped off third.

And it so happened that the next inning, because York had been removed, there was George Tebbetts up there at bat with the bases loaded. He hit into a double play, ending the frame.

Cronin, on the other hand, guessed faultlessly.

NONNY DOES IT

With the Tigers leading 3 to 2, as a result of early home runs by Greenberg and Gehring, Joe was urged by the customers to let Eric McNair hit for Bobby Doerr with two and two out in the seventh.

But Bobby, who had falled with the sacks drunk in the fifth, was allowed to bat again, and this time he singled, tying the count.

Then, in the 10th, after Desautels had opened with his double, Nonnenkamp was put on to run. Grove produced the ordered bunt which Lawson played to third. The throw might have beaten Desautels. It was too late to catch the fleet "Nonny."

It's something new for things to break well for the Sox in tight games, particularly when Grove is pitching.

MIKE ITCHING TO CATCH

"There's not a chance that I'll ever try to play again," asserts "Mickey" Cochrane. In the next breath, the Tigers' pilot admits he's in great shape and thinks he could catch as well as ever...

Mickey Cochrane

We have a hunch he'd be in there now if he weren't under strict orders of President Walter Briggs to stay on the sidelines. And it's our guess that if the Bengals don't start clicking in a hurry Mike will forget he has a boss. Mike fears the Indians. Says Fletcher, Allen and Hardy are in rare form and that Third Sacker Keltner shapes up as a prize rookie "find." When "Lefty" Grove fanned Roxie Lawson in the sixth inning to the Tuesday tilt, he hung up his 2000th big league strike-out, a feat cherished by every finger but one which only six in the game's history had previously reached. That sextet were Walter Johnson, Cy Young, Christy Mathewson, Grover Alexander, Rube Waddell and Eddie Plank. Grove went two over the mark before the game was finished and needs but nine more to equal Plank's sixth-place total. Brooklyn Joe Walsh worked out at the Hive yesterday for the first time since the second operation on his knee. He reported that he experienced no pain or stiffness when he put pressure on the leg. Bob Quinn has hopes that Joe will be able to rejoin the Bees by June 1. Playing on one leg in the Southland, the young Wealthy Towner showed enough to convince the Bees' bosses that he's a big league infidel when in shape. —CASHMAN.

Arm Hurts, Diz Admits

$250,000 Kid Again Fails To Finish

CHICAGO, May 4 (INS).—"One little baseball fans had a strange experience here when they saw a cool quarter million dollars worth of arm curl up and go to sleep. It was at Wrigley Field where the Chicago Cubs and the Philadelphia Phillies were playing a game of ball and the arm was the right one of Dizzy Dean.

Dean's arm, just about the coolest bank o'bone and sinew in the world from a strictly cash viewpoint, went along all right for seven innings of the game, losing in the ball with a fair amount of enthusiasm and accuracy.

But then the arm just went to sleep, and Diz was yanked for a pinch hitter, even though the Cubs led 3 to 2.

"I'm tired," explained the great arm. "I'm not in shape." Not in shape. Diz? A $250,000 pitching arm has to be in shape, or it just ain't. A $250,000 pitching arm. It's just an arm, and it wouldn't bring a nickel down at the stockyards.

"Well," said Diz. "It still hurts a little. You know I yanked it some the other day and had to quit."

Diz pointed to a spot just below his right shoulder, right near where the arm begins to be worth about $500 an inch.

That's approximately what P. K. Wrigley, president of the Cubs, paid for it when he bought Dean from St. Louis for $150,000 cash and three players worth another $70,000 or so.

Mr. Wrigley wasn't around to say how he felt about it, but anyway The wasn't worried.

"I just ain't in condition," he said. "I should weigh around 185, and I weigh a near ten pounds more than that."

"Will you be able to pitch in your next regular turn?" Diz was asked.

"Why not?" he snapped.

Charlie Root he snapped. Diz looked tired and sulky. He rubbed his arm.

"It still hurts up there all right. But please don't print anything about me being through. They ain't going to stop Diz."

Maybe they ain't. Diz, and everybody hopes so, especially Mr. Wrigley.

P. S.—The Cubs went on to win without their $250,000 worth of arm. An old man by the name of Charlie Root, who wouldn't ask more than about 65 cents, maybe, for his arm, stepped in and moved em down for two innings and didn't give a hit.

Boos Drive Di Mag To Greater Effort

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, May 4 (INS)—The rich, ripe resonant boo that submerged Joe DiMaggio up to his ears the other day in Washington was an inevitable expression of a new era in sport. War, want and radio serials have changed the mood of the average fan. There hasn't been a tear shed over a baseball holdout since they stopped giving out Melba toast in the breadlines.

DiMaggio had the perfect answer. He hit a home run. A poke that just cannot be booed, particularly in Washington, where a ball has to be soaked unmercifully to propel it into the fair territory. Yesterday when he came to bat, there was a lesser sprinkling of boos, and Joe promptly curried them by hitting another home run. His feelings were hurt.

ONLY ONCE BEFORE

Save for a ball afternoon in Boston, where he lost the all-star game of 1936, DiMaggio's ears had never been assailed by the unpleasant sound of a vibrating tongue between two fat lips.

It isn't unreasonable to suppose that the boos in the outside event that they continue from city to city, will make DiMaggio a better ball player. Decision is often a powerful stimulant. Most of the thoughtful old-timers believe that a good percentage of Ty Cobb's sometimes incontinent competitive fury was born of a burning will to shut the mouths of his hecklers. He had millions of them, because he played the game up to the hilt and if you didn't like the way he played it he'd fight you under the stands to prove he was right.

Ruth used to be generously booed—we all tend to forget—but that was a different sort of boo. On the out-of-town stops, the Babe would doff his hat to the boo, and the boos would stop. People liked to boo the Babe. It gave them a feeling of importance, and George seemed to realize it, with that subtle communion he had with all mobs.

DIZ AROUND

Dizzy Dean blew his top last year, got called on the mat at Ford Frick's office, was suspended, and finally reinstated just before the opening of an important Giant-Carl series. We were sitting on the bench next to Jerome that afternoon when the announcer bawled that he would pitch and we turned curiously to watch his face—when the house boos rolled down out of the stands.

He sat there with his lower lip drooping in a great pout, his eyes dull with the preoccupation of a man who is solemnly tabulating his income tax. When the reception died away, Dean's lip snapped shut like a lady shopper's purse.

"Let them boo," he muttered, "just so they keep coming out to see me."

He then got up, went out on the hill and beat Hubbell.

It would seem logical, therefore, to believe that if the jeers continue for DiMaggio, they may propel him to heights well beyond his plegmatia present merit. From the looks of the American League standings, the Yanks could use some cheering extra—and the appointment of a good loud jeer leader might be the thing.

Kelley Enters 10-Mile Run

Entries are piling up for the annual 10-mile Handicap Road Race, to be sponsored by the Irish American A. A. of South Boston, over one of the finest courses ever laid out for such an event, next Saturday afternoon.

Johnny Kelley of Arlington, who finished third in the recent B. A. Marathon, and who won the Patriot's Day grind in 1935 and was the first American to finish in the Olympic Marathon in Berlin in 1936, has entered. Kelley is the most consistent long distance performer in the country.

Pitted against the Arlington flyer are Hawk Zamparelli of the John A. Carr Club of Medford, one of the outstanding 10-milers in New England; Daniel Fox of Jamaica Plain, Frank Zimmerman of Philadelphia, Herbert Wood, Greenfield; James McCafferty, Woburn; George L. Durgin, United Shoe Machinery A. A. of Beverly; Don Martori of Charlestown, George A. Martin, Taunton; Norman Courage, Everett; Tony Medeiros, Lowell; William Malloy, United Shoe Machinery A. A. of Beverly; Fred Hooton, No. Medford Club.

The Bradford Catholic Club has entered a full team in Leon Durgin, Ben Chapinski, Joseph Rowinski, Robert L. Evans, Lionel Paquette, Mickey Mariano and Charles Boover. Other entries are E. W. Cobb, Mansfield; Archie Neilson, No. Medford Club; William Simons, Needham Heights; Joseph Blagie, Cambridge; Paul Barter, Melrose; William F. Langan, W. Somerville; Leon Kantor, Springfield; Virginia Staten, Staten Island, N. Y.; Durdaw Brewer, Portland, Me.; and Philip Oliver of Danielson, Conn.

Ruggles Forms Two Golf Loop

Carter K. Ruggles of the Meadow Brook Golf Club announces the formation of a new Northern Twilight Golf League, with Bear Hill, Bellevue, Meadow Brook, Salem Country Club and Tedesco Country Club as member teams.

Ruggles, secretary-treasurer of the new organization, discloses that the league was formed to stimulate golf competition among those whose handicaps are just beyond the limits allowed by the Metropolitan League.

Plans are under way to enlarge the Northern Twilight next season by the addition of one or more teams. Clubs interested may contact Ruggles. First matches are scheduled for Friday at 4 p. m., with others every Friday through July 8th.

Yale Comes Back To Nip Columbia

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—Yale's baseball team came from behind to score ten runs in the last five innings and defeat Columbia 11-10 in an Eastern Intercollegiate League slugfest at Baker Field.

The victory gave Yale sole possession of second place in the circuit with four wins and one loss while Columbia suffered its third loss in four starts.

Lefty Moe Jubit, though belted for twelve hits, went the distance for the Elis to gain his fourth triumph in as many starts.

HE COULD HIT 'EM

Don Budge Headed East

LOS ANGELES, May 4 (AP)—Donald Budge, America's hope to hold on to the Davis cup, traveled East today, bound in easy stages for Europe and defense of the big silver trophy.

Weeks of rest and leisurely exhibition matches—which Donald dropped with regularity—were behind him, but strenuous weeks of matches ahead found the famed red-head primed for battle and modestly confident.

Accompanying Budge is Gene Mako, his doubles partner.

"Don't worry about the exhibition matches Don loses," advised Mako. "When Don's out to win, he can't be stopped."

Gainer Job Proves Expensive

NEW HAVEN, Ct., May 4 (INS)—Al Gainer, one of Connecticut's ranking light-heavyweights, realized today he throws an expensive left-hand jab—outside the ring.

Superior Court Judge Carl Foster awarded William Clark, local boxer, $2500 for the "pain and discomfort" and $27 medical expenses, for a broken jaw he received as the result of a fracas between Gainer and himself last November in a downtown club.

The Chief Certain Starter in Derby

Winner Of Last 2 Races

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4 (AP)—The stage is all set, the principal actors selected and only a minor role or two remains to be filled for the 64th matinee performance of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

Eleven horses are considered definite starters and there is a possibility that another one or two may be added.

Firmly entrenched as the public choice for the $50,000 show over a mile and a quarter is the combination of Stagehand and The Chief, owned by Maxwell Howard of Dayton, O., and trained by the one and only Earl Sande. Playing the leading roles is nothing new for Sande and Stagehand. The Earl did it three times at the Downs when he was a jockey. Stagehand with the rich Santa Anita Derby and handicaps last winter.

BROKE TRACK RECORDS

But to The Chief, it'll be something new. Until yesterday's trial stakes he was considered just a good running mate for Stagehand. The experts were saying he'd probably set a burning pace for six furlongs or a mile and then drop out in favor of his more illustrious stablemate.

Now these same experts are not so sure but what The Chief will be able to take care of matters himself. He did it yesterday with a track record equalling performance that whipped Herbert M. Woolf's Lawrin by a nose and left Stagehand five lengths in his wake. The time for the mile was 1:34.3 and The Chief and Lawrin had reeled off the first six furlongs in the almost unbelievable time of 1:10.35.

The Chief was showing no signs of weakening at the end but Stagehand was tired. Even Sande admitted that but declared he had not lost faith in his star.

IN BEST OF SHAPE

"He needed the race to put him in shape," said Sande. "Now, just as I told you the other day, I have two horses instead of one for the others to beat."

Lawrin was the only other leading Derby contender in the field, but his race, run under the handicap of wearing four bar plates to protect tender feet, indicated a new Derby record within the realm of possibility. When Trainer Ber. Jones removes the plates Saturday, the Kansas City-owned colt should be ready to really burn oil. There is no lack of speed and stamina among the other tanking candidates. Warren Wright's Bull Lea and Hal Price Headley's Menow tangled in a mile and an eighth stake at Keeneland last week with the latter setting the pace and the former the track record.

What the Stars Did

By the Associated Press
PAUL DERINGER, Reds—Pitched eight-hit game that stopped Giants' winning streak at 11 straight and paced 19-5 victory with pair of singles and long fly that drove in four runs.

KEN KETNER, Indians—Blasted two homers and single, latter sending in deciding run, and batted in six tallies in 10-9 victory over Senators.

FORREST PRESSNELL, Dodgers—Scattered Pirates' ten hits in gaining 7-3 decision.
LOU GEHRIG, Yankees—Broke out of slump with home run and double that helped whip Browns, 5-1.

LEFTY GROVE, Red Sox—Struck out six and helped secure winning run in 10-inning, 4-3, defeat of Tigers.

LEE ROSS and GENE HASSON, Athletics—Former set back White Sox, 7-2, on five hits; latter drove in three runs with triple and single.

JOE MARTY, Cubs—Sixth-inning home run provided deciding run in 5-2 trouncing of Phillies.

Educated Toes Win Out

CALIFORNIAN SOCCER ALL STARS just weren't good enough to beat the educated toes of the Islington Corinthians of London, who are on a world tour. The Americans were edged out by a 3 to 2 score after a hard-fought battle. Red Mahlin, All-Star left back, is shown clearing the boot of Dick Tarrant, the invader.

Cleveland Indians At Mayfair Party

The place is the Club Mayfair; the date is May 9; the occasion is the Boston Evening American Night Sports Final dinner.

This party is being held for the third year, and the past two affairs have been the greatest ever held in this city from a standpoint of sports, political and entertainment leaders gathered under one roof. Next Monday's party threatens even to surpass the previous gatherings.

The celebration is open to the readers of the Boston Evening American. No admission, no tickets will be needed for entrance.

The Club Mayfair will throw open its doors at the usual time, and everybody who wishes to come will be accommodated as long as there is room. Regular Mayfair prices will prevail.

A small part of the festivities will be sent out over the "ether" including a special Bob Feller interview. Austen Lake, Boston Evening American columnist, will do the quizzing.

Famous personages who will appear include:

Baseball—Manager Joe Cronin, Manager Oscar Vitt, Bob Feller, Jimmy Fox, Moose Sulzers, Joe Vossick, Earl Averill, Ben Chapman, Finky Higgins, Doc Cramer and Moe Bets.

Boxing—Jack Sharkey, Al McCoy, Sammy Fuller, George Marlin, Lou Brullard, Ralph Zarilli and Rip Valenti.

Street Picking Indians

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have made a firm believer out of your old friend, Gabby Street, who limped in here with his St. Louis Browns. Barring injuries or tiffs among the players, he thinks Cleveland will win out in the American League.

"They're a terrific team as they stand now," he insisted. "They've picked up four out of five, and my boys are playing good ball, believe it or not. There's no reason in the world why they shouldn't beat the Yankees if they continue to play head-out by Oscar Vitt."

"Yeah, I know. . . They've started like this before and then fallen apart, but they don't look like that to me this time. They're really hustling and their pitching is brutal. All my boys say Bob Feller is harder to hit than ever, and they can't wait him out, either. He'll throw three balls now and then zip three fast ones right down the middle."

SULLIVAN SORRY

Billy Sullivan, young Brown catcher, said he was sorry he ruined Feller's no-hitter on the second day of the season by beating out a ball.

"No, don't feel that way," said the Sarge. "We were still in the ball game when you got that hit. Anyhow, a no-hitter doesn't mean anything unless every batter does his best right to the last out. Walt Johnson was absolutely right that time he sent in a pinch-hitter in the ninth and spoiled a no-hitter for Tommy Bridges."

The Sarge, who used to manage the Cardinals and still has a lot of National League connections, says he's afraid Dizzy Dean has lost his high-hand one for good. "I thought for a while he just didn't want to pitch for the Cards, but now that he's with Chicago he would be cutting loose if he still had it. Nope, it'll take some team besides the Cubs to stop those Giants. Pittsburgh might, but I'm afraid they haven't got the pitching either."

NEWSOM CONFIDENT

Speaking of pitching, wasn't Street getting some very fancy flattery from Buck Newsom, who had won his first three starts?

"Sure," he admitted, "but Buck is going to run me crazy. He's always pitching up-bill. He's been ahead of a batter yet. He pitches two full games every afternoon—one good one and one bad one. Isn't that true, Buck?"

"Right," Newsom agreed, "but I warned you down South to stop worrying yourself about it. That's just my way of pitching."

625-Pounder On Arena Card

A real old fashioned free-for-all will be on tap at the Arena tonight when four of the roughest of the Gordon wrestlers meet in a battle royal, the feature of which will be Martin Levy, 625 pound giant.

With him in the ring will be Buster Jones, Wild Bill Collins, and the one and only Ted Germaine.

In a co-feature Sandy McDonald, popular light heavyweight champion will meet Pat Schaeffer of California in a best two out of three fall affair. Owing to the fact that Schaeffer will outweigh McDonald by some 12 pounds, there will be no title at stake in this bout.

Adolph Shuliz, Nazi wrestler, who has promised to be here on several occasions, will be on hand tonight to meet Ed McNeil in a special bout.
